
Choosing

The decisions you are about to make - where to go to college, what to study in college, what not to study in college, and what not to do after high school - are decisions that you will be living with for decades. As William Wordsworth put it, "The Child is the Father of the Man."

What do you need to know to make good decisions?

Put very simply, you need to know about yourself and you need to know about the world.

Frank Kovalchek

What do you need to know about yourself?

What do you need to know about the world? (obviously, you can never know everything)
